JOB'S DAUGHTERS OF INDIANA

ANITA'S BUZZ WORDS

Happy Valentine's Day. Fun Fact: St. Valentine is listed as the patron saint of bee keepers. I hope all of my busy little bees are getting ready for this second term. We have so much with Ritual Contest and the Pageant, not to mention another round of OV's.

I hope all of you have managed to stay safe and warm with all of the horrible winter weather we have had. I know I am counting the days until spring--38 as I write this. That means we are half way through winter. Yeah!

Next month, we celebrate two very important birthdays in our Order. Mother Mick, our founder, and our own Mother Jacobs. We will be visiting Mother Jacobs grave site on March 12 to lay a wreath in her honor. I hope you all can join us.

BETHEL 42

Hello everyone~

January we had really bad weather, the council meeting had to be postponed and made up later. Our 2nd meeting in January was wacky hair night. We all got together and drove up to Indy for the all day school of instruction. We learned lots of cool stuff about our stations; and watched an informative slide show about Cyberbullying. I'm sure after that every girl who has a Facebook changed all of their privacy settings! On January 29th we had our term Bethel Boot Camp where everyone did some sort of team building activities and we grew stronger in our Bethel knowledge and our Jobie friendships. After our Boot Camp we had a Bowl -A- Thon to raise money for promotion/education/education for scholarships. We had a good time and we found out that bowling balls likes to come back.

DEAR MOTHER MICK,

Dear Mother Mick,

Sometimes, I feel like no one listens to what I have to say about what our Bethel does. How can I make my voice heard?

Sincerely,
Silent

Dear Silent,

It is time to hear your roar! Job's Daughters was founded on the principle of teaching young women to voice their opinions. After all, the organization was made after women got the vote in 1920.

Here's how to start. First, you can have your voice heard during the business meetings by discussing motions and asking questions.

Second, you can take a minute with the Bethel Guardian to share your ideas and have her give you some feedback. And lastly, you can let the Vice Grand Guardian know your opinions about council recommendations on the back of your ballot. The more information she has, the better decisions she can make about the adult leadership in your Bethel. Remember, Job's Daughters is about girl's empowerment, but we still need the guidance of adults.

Now...ROAR!!!!
Sincerely,
Mother Mick

MISS INDIANA JOB'S DAUGHTER, RUSTIE MILLS

Well, the icy winter grays and blues are fading away, and all I can see is purple. There are many events coming up this term, and I am especially excited for the Night at the Museum promotional event coming up this month. Official Visits are starting soon too, and Ritual Contest is just a few months away.

I wanted to take this opportunity to spread the word about my philanthropic project as Miss Indiana Job's Daughter 2010-2011. This year, we are trying an event that is new to Indiana Job's Daughters to raise money for the Educational Foundation, which assists our members who are attending college with the financial aspect of their education. Girls, this is your chance to see if the adults truly know their stuff. You have the opportunity to challenge adult female workers to perform those parts found within the Ceremony of Initiation including: Honored Queen, Senior Princess, Junior Princess, Guide, Marshal, Chaplain, each of the Messengers, the Custodians, the Recorder, and the Musician. To challenge an adult worker, you should send bids to me with the name of the adult worker, the amount of the bid, and the Initiatory part you want them to perform. Make sure your adult worker is available immediately after Ritual

Contest, on April 16, 2011. Adults, you have the opportunity to evade the challenge by outbidding the sum of those that have betted for you to do the part. Men, just because you can't participate in giving the parts, I would love for you to participate by bidding.

Please contact me at befly-girlie1993@aol.com with the name of the person you are challenging, the amount you're bidding, and the part you wish to see her perform or any comments or questions. Bids will be accepted through April 1, 2011, and money is due on April 7, 2011. Make checks payable to the Grand Guardian Council. Thank you in advance for your participation.

I also hope that you will support Genesis Jones's efforts to raise fund to help hearing impaired children through her dance marathon on May 6, 2011. I think both events will be fun for the adults and the girls, and I hope that you will help us in our efforts to succeed in making a difference for those within our organization and for those outside. All are deserving, and we have the potential through our projects to make a difference in a young person's life, whether by granting them funds to educate themselves and improve their quality of life by doing so or by granting a child the awe-inspiring gift of hearing.

I cannot leave out a very important event coming up in the term, one that is very dear to my heart as Miss Indiana Job's Daughter 2010-2011, pageant. I know all of you are looking forward to it as much as I am, and it is a wonderful opportunity to experience some of what Job's Daughters is truly about and meet some of the fairest of the fairest. Pageant grants you the opportunity to make new memories and make new friends while representing the Order and gaining leadership experience at the state level. I hope to see many of you going out for Pageant, especially since this year, it is taking place in my hometown of Terre Haute, and please do not hesitate to call or e-mail me if you have questions. I'm looking forward to another great term, and I can't wait to see all of you throughout my travels. Happy Valentine's Day to all of my Job's Daughters family.

Job's Love,
Rustie

Hi!

My name is Keely and I'm the Inner Guard for my Bethel.

My station may not be considered very exciting by most standards, but it is still important. Since I'm pretty new to Job's, I'm still learning about all of the stations. My job (as I understand it) is to report what the Outer Guard says to the Honored Queen. This way she knows if there are visitors or late members wanting to come in. In reality, my post is rather small, but that's one of the nice things about Job's Daughter's - it gives you the opportunity to learn and grow as you go.

Crowns with flowing hair,
Purple everywhere,
Capes lined with silk,
Robes white as milk,
Smiles full of care,
Job's Daughters are so fair.

The month of December has been very full of activities. So here's what we did all month.

First on the 10th of December we had the Huntington girls installation, which was a lot of fun. Darian Lavine was installed as Honored Queen. Second, on the 11th of December we did a cross at the New Haven Lodge. We did not have many girls so we ended up doing a triangle instead of a cross. I ended up being Honored Queen in our triangle. Third, on the 11th of December we went to the Waynedale Lodge Christmas party, we sang Christmas Carols to the Eastern Star members and then SANTA came and gave us CANDY ! The fourth thing we did was on the 18th we came and did the cross for the Waynedale Lodge installation which was tons of fun. The fifth thing we did was on December 21st we had our installation and Christmas party, which was sooooo much fun because we had an ornament exchange and I battled it out with Senior Princess Alexa Dearing for a Michael Jackson ornament, which was really fun. The 6th thing we did was on December 28th we had a Dump Dinner which was fun and VERY MESSY, we couldn't use our hands or silverware which was super messy but fun. Lastly, on New Year's Eve there was a sleep over at Alexa's which was crazy, really crazy, we had tons of fun partying and drinking grape juice.

In January we had our regular meetings where one of them was friends night. We invited girls from other Bethels to come visit us and Daleville came and did a shadowing thing with our officers so we could get to know them better. It was really fun.

We also went to the All Day School of Instruction on January 22nd and we learned a lot about how to be better at our stations in the Bethel. We all loved the skit that Grand Bethel did. Our first meeting this month got cancelled because of alllll the snow, but our next meeting is going to be really fun because it's Honor Masonic Family night.

So, thanks for reading what we've been doing and I hope to see you at some of our upcoming events.

Hello Indiana! Here is a report of what our Bethel has been up to for the last month. In January several of our girls attended the all day school of instruction. We learned a lot about internet safety and had fun watching the Grand Bethel skit about Job. Afterward, Jasmin and I went to the McDonald's with the Crown Point girls. We decided to all wear tiaras while we ate. We stood out! Later in the month, we went bowling. We decided to all bowl on one lane. Even though our scores were very low, our girls had a blast trying out different ways to get the ball down the lane. At one point, we even ended up laying on the floor to push the balls down. The attendant had to come and fix our lane, too. We also had a sleepover at our lodge. We had 3 prospective members who came and we investigated Samantha. We watched movies and played games like hide and seek, don't disturb the queen, Apples to apples, and hide the head (Bob)! We also made a few phone calls to some DeMolay, but they didn't think it was as funny as we did. Our Associate Bethel Guardian, John, even made a run to Taco Bell and bought us 50 tacos! They thought it was a joke. Thanks, John. We were supposed to initiate 3 girls at our first Feb. meeting, but the weather was too bad. We had to cancel our membership party on the 5th, too. We went to Speedway to make up our meeting and practice for our Official Visit. Hopefully the weather is going to get better and everyone will come to our O.V. That's all for this month.
